New Design of Dump Cart.

The Mackinon Wagon Company of this city have recently designed a new dump cart which promises to be quite a thing in time. They have already received orders for a number of the wagons from towns on the Pacific coast, and practical men who have seen the new cart pronounce it first class in every respect.

In getting out the new cart the Mackinon company have tried to avoid some of the failings to which the ordinary wagon is heir to, and it looks very much as if they had succeeded. The cart is constructed almost wholly of steel, and the box is virtually a steel tank only open at the top, and when once the sand or refuse, garbage, or anything of that sort is dumped into it, it is safe to figure that it will reach its destination without being scattered along the road as is usual when hauling refuse from place to place.

It is so arranged that when the destination is reached where it is wished to dump the load, the driver sits right in his seat and placing his foot on a lever, the bottom of the box opens out, allowing everything to fall out perfectly clean. Then by the use of a lever the bottom is brought back into place, and this part of the affair works so easily that a ten year old boy could handle it in a case of emergency.

When the bottom is in place it is closed up tight, so that there is no leakage of dirt during the passage of the cart along the street. As the entire rig is made out of steel and strongly braced it would seem as if it would stand a lot of wear and tear. It is also arranged that the rig can be turned around in a very narrow space, so that it will not block traffic unnecessarily on a crowded street, and as it has a capacity of two cubic yards it is capable of handling quite a load. The carts that are being made for the Pacific coast have a wider gauge than the rigs that are used in this country, but otherwise they are about the same. It would seem as if one or two of these dump carts would be a good thing for use in hauling the refuse from our streets, a job that has somebody working at it the greater part of the time. The carts sell for about one hundred and thirty dollars apiece.

Anderson-Newman.

Alex Anderson of the town of Port Edwards and Miss Ellen Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Newman of the town of Sigel, will be married this afternoon at the Congregational church, Rev. Fred Staff to perform the ceremony.

They will be accompanied by Misses Bath Newman, Ida Becklund and Amelia Klinge as bridesmaids and Carl, Frank and John Newman as groomsmen, and Florence Sitterley and Anna Anderson will be flower girls.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner will be served at the Sitterley restaurant, to which about seventy-five guests have been invited. They will leave this afternoon for Omberville and other points south of here and upon their return will make their home in the town of Port Edwards, where the groom owns a nice farm.

The Tribune wishes with their many friends in extending congratulations.

Cut His Throat With a Razor.

Word was received here this week by the Woodman of the World lodge that Alfred Finman had committed suicide at Plano, Ill., last week by cutting his throat with a razor. The Finman family lived at Port Edwards about ten years ago where Mr. Finman was employed as blacksmith, moving from there to Plano. Family difficulties are supposed to be the cause for his rash act, his wife having left him several months ago.

Tom McGrath of Biron was in the city on Tuesday attending to some business matters. Tom reports that it is his intention to build a cabin on his place this spring which will be for rent next summer for parties who wish to spend a few days or a week on river camping. Tom has half a mile of river bank up river from Biron which is ideally situated for camping places, and if he should carry out his intentions the place should in time prove a popular one. There are many people in the city who would like to spend a few days or a week up river during the summer who have not money enough to own a club-house, but who could afford to rent a place for a short time, and it would be to this class of people that the new plan would appeal.

Weeks & Weeks, the well known local marble and granite dealers, are doing a large amount of business at their works this spring. They made a shipment last week of several fine family monuments to Pleasant, Almond, Wild, Rose and Watoma. This firm is erecting many fine monuments in the cemeteries in this part of the state, and their reputation for doing honest work is beyond question. Owing to the volume of business they are constantly receiving, it has become necessary for them to install electric tools, for fine cutting, lettering and carving.

Mrs. O. J. Lee of Alford was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Tuesday while in the city on business. Mrs. Lee reports that the roads are in pretty fair shape out there, but that there is still snow in the woods, as it has been going very slowly where the sun has not got a chance at it.

Miss Lenore McCarthy returned Saturday from a visit in Milwaukee. She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. Frank Sheehan who will visit here for a time.

Miss Florence Quinn visited with Sisters Point friends over Sunday.

DON'T BE IN A RUSH

Plenty of Time to Buy Electric Plant After Other Needed Improvements are Made

A short and ineffective looking article was published last week in the Leader which advocated the city buying the electric light plant. We feel that this is no time to let such articles go unanswered, even tho' the arguments contained in the article were of a negative variety. The article was apparently written by some person who is interested directly or indirectly in some other concern that is at the present time producing electricity, or may possibly be going to do so at some future time.

In the article it is intimated that the city is being robbed by the Electric & Water company, for the service that is being rendered. This is a deliberate misstatement of the facts, as the city is being supplied with lights at a much cheaper rate than the average throughout the country, showing that the municipality is sharing in the rates that have existed since the plant was established, and anybody who will take the trouble to investigate the matter will admit that the rates are low here for all kinds of electric service.

And if the rates are not right it is an easy matter to meet with the directors of the company and thrash the matter out and have the rate adjusted. Nobody is making any money out of the proposition and there is no disposition to fleece one man and let others go. It is private companies and corporations that do these kind of things.

The article also states that the handling of the business by the Grand Rapids plant is an expensive method. As long as the stockholders and directors are satisfied, we cannot see why others should kick. The handling of the business is not cumbersome nor expensive by any means, no more so than it would be if handled by the city, and as yet no politics has entered into the matter as is usually the case where there is a municipal plant. And in spite of all this we are not against municipal ownership. We think a municipal plant is much better than a private corporation, as it was proposed to organize the company into some time ago. At that time the stockholders showed what they thought of a private corporation getting hold of the plant, and did not seem to be at all averse to airing their opinions.

The one great reason why we do not believe that the city should buy the electric plant at the present time is simply because there are so many other things that the city needs worse, that it cannot afford to invest its money in an electric plant. The lighting of the city is being taken care of in a fairly efficient manner, thus taking this much out of the hands of the city fathers, who have now a considerable more than they can attend to and do it properly.

If the city has any money to spend why not spend it fixing up our main streets in a passable manner. For the past four years they have been in horrible shape, even in the best parts of the city and the excuse for not fixing them is that the money is not available.

Then there is the matter of extending and increasing our water supply. The fact that we are short of decent water has been apparent for some time past. It was proposed some time ago to build a new reservoir to partly do away with the difficulty, but when it was found that the old reservoir cost, the matter was dropped for the reason that the cost was so great.

There is also a demand for a new bridge. The present structure is barely able to handle the traffic and it is a question of only a short time when a new bridge will have to be built.

And speaking of bridge matters we understand that none of the indebtedness on the present bridge has been paid.

Then there is the extension of water and sewer pipes. Every meeting of the council finds demands for new sewers, and even when the city falls apart along and out of the work from meeting to meeting until fall comes and the work goes over to a succeeding year, it is impossible to meet the demand. This is what has been done for a number of years past.

At the present time there are many things that the city needs worse than it does an electric plant. We can hardly see the necessity of spending fifteen or twenty thousand dollars for the purpose of laying out a park system and then having no roads that lead to the parks, excepting possibly during a few months of the year when the weather is of the driest. Nice, well kept streets do much more to beautify a city than all the parks that were ever built. If we have money to spend, let us have some paved streets.

If a private corporation owned the electric plant, we would be in favor of buying it at once, but so long as it is being handled by a co-operative company we believe in letting them take care of it until such time as the city may be able to buy it without doing so at the expense of necessary improvements.

People should not be misled by the arguments of people who are directly interested in the matter. It is a mighty poor proposition that a smart man cannot find some argument in favor of, and the general public should govern themselves accordingly. As the electric plant is now being run nobody is reaping any benefit from it, and this fact should be borne in mind whenever an argument is brought out against the system.

The public should bear in mind that the purchase of the electric plant by the city is not a matter that need be hurried in the least. As the charter of the company now reads the city can take over the plant at any time, either tomorrow or ten years hence, so that there is no rush about it. When people are in an awful hurry to do something, then is a good time to go slow. It is possible that they may get over their hurry if they only wait long enough. If the city only had one chance to buy the electric plant and that chance existed right now and was going to lapse at the end of the week, we would then advise our city fathers to hold a special meeting and clinch the thing at once. But no such emergency exists, and there is no hurry about the matter.

Many Planning for Concert.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the appearance at the opera house in this city of the Ripon College Glee and Mandolin Club on the evening of April 26th. The Ripon singers are easily the best college organization of the kind in this part of the country and their appearance here will be greeted by one of the largest audiences which has ever attended a similar entertainment in Grand Rapids. Additional interest will be taken in the concert owing to the fact that Hugh Goggins of this city is a member of the Mandolin Club.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kanti of the fourth ward on Saturday.

A YOUNG WANDERER

A Fifteen Year Old Girl Claiming to be Without a Home Picked Up

On Tuesday a little girl who claims to be fifteen years of age, but whose appearance would indicate that she was only about thirteen, was taken in charge by Chief Garlino.

The little girl had been going from house to house asking for work, and at each place she stated that it would be necessary for her to get work before night as she had had nothing to eat and had no place to sleep.

Her story was a true one, and some of the ladies took the matter in charge and notified the police.

Upon being questioned the girl stated that she had formerly lived in Illinois with her mother but that her mother had died. At this time she went to Beaver Dam, where she procured work for some time, but lost her place, when some parties told her that Grand Rapids would be a good place to come to for work. That she had got onto the train and that a man had paid a part of her fare to this city, and that she had since been looking for work.

The police thought her story was a trifle off color in places and today have been telephoning to Beaver Dam to see if it is possible to get any information concerning the girl. She gave her name as Rose Thompson.

Big Stock Fair.

A large number of farmers were in town Tuesday to take in the fair and there was a thriving business transacted during the day. It is really remarkable how soon the choice animals are snapped up at these fairs, indicating that the people are in the market for good produce whenever it is possible to obtain it. A number of little pigs were brought in on Tuesday which were disposed of without any trouble whatever, while a number of head of horses and stock were sold.

Among the other sales made during the day was seven fine heavy draft horses by Charles Daly.

Sold His Farm.

Gus Gredshelm, secretary of the Senece, Hazel & Randolph Mutual Fire Insurance Co., sold his farm, stock and machinery in the town of Hansen last week to Henry Gatzke, of Rush Lake Junction, a nephew of James Gibson. Consideration $7,400, the deal being made thru J. H. Linderman. Mr. Gredshelm has not made any plans for the future, but will probably make a visit thru the west to seek relief from rheumatism which has been troubling him for several years.

Looking for a Location.

A. Walter of Marquette, Mich., arrived in the city the fore part of the week and has been looking for a location here. Mr. Walter is in the post card business and was struck with the location of our city as a distributing point for his business, so decided to locate here.

Death of John Wagner.

John Wagner, one of the old residents of this city, died at the home of his son Frank on Thursday after an illness of some time, death being due largely to old age.

Deceased was a native of Switzerland, where he was born on February 7, 1829, and was consequently more than eighty years old. He was married in the old country in 1851 and came to this country in 1853. He resided first at Milwaukee, but the following year came to Grand Rapids, where he has since resided.

Mr. Wagner is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Joe Gask of Des Moines, Iowa, and one son, Frank, of this city, with whom he has made his home for some time past.

The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon from the home, the services being conducted by Rev. Fred Staff of the Congregational church.

Again be at the Rapids Next New Moon.

On April 26th and 27th until noon I will again be at Grand Rapids to heal such ailments which medicine will not cure. That I have gained an enviable reputation by healing such ailments which some call incurable is undoubted, and the honest sufferer should not doubt, as I do believe that, that there is life, there is hope, and am convinced that no healing power is so strong as human power during its new period. Remember the date April 26th and 27th until noon at the Anderson Hotel. Philip Yackel.

Work on the Electric Line.

The permanent survey of the electric line was commenced on Monday morning, the party starting at Nekoma and working this way. It is not expected that this work will occupy a great deal of time, and when completed it is expected that the other work can be commenced at once. The application for a franchise has also been published in the Nekoma paper, so that no time will be lost in this connection.

A Small Fire.

The department was called out on Sunday evening by a small blaze in the Cellier home on the west side. The damage was confined mostly to some clothing and the furnishings in one of the rooms, it having gained but little headway when the fire department arrived on the premises.

Many Voted on License.

The vote on Tuesday won victories in several cities in the state where prohibition had been tried and in other places the drys were victorious. Nearly two hundred cities, villages and towns voted on local option, and the vote was back some dry territory and lost few important places which are now wet. In brief, the larger towns went wet and the small towns for no license.

WET.

Appleton, Beloit, Bluefieldville, Danbury, Edgerton, Fox Lake, Fond du Lac, Platteville, Plainfield, Rhineclaud, Sparta, Waterville, Pewaukee, Neenah, Superior, Wausau, Whitehall, Barron, Plymouth, Brantford, Ashland, Oshkosh, Eagle River, Stanley, Somerset, Oshkosh, Eau Claire and Marinette.

DRY.

Brownstown, Milton Junction, Sturgeon Bay, Cumberland, New Lisbon, New Richmond, Grantsburg, Stoughton, Albany, Deuster, Ladell, Black Earth, Bloomington, Mondovi, Elroy, Gilmanville, Whitehall and West Salem.

Appleton, which was the center of one of the hottest battles of the kind, was carried for license by a majority of 547. The no license people concentrated their strength there, and made a hard fight but were decisively defeated.

Other cities which went wet were Platteville, by 66 majority; Rhineclaud, by 153 majority; Plymouth, by 27 majority; Beloit, where there was a warm contest, was carried by the license people by 100 majority.

West Salem, which has had license for fifteen years, though sometimes by narrow majorities, was carried for prohibition by a majority of 20 votes. Four saloons are voted out of business. An incident of the contest was the attempt on the part of the saloon faction to have A. J. Phillips, leader of the dry element, arrested and examined as to his sanity. An application to the county judge was presented, but the court refused to issue the warrants.

New Lisbon gave 113 votes for and 113 against license. The vote being a tie, no license wins.

The only issue in Baraboo was one of license and the vote was by 102 majority.

Sports voted for license by 32 majority, after an experience of two years with prohibition. Oshkosh voted for license by 7 majority. It was wet last year.

Barron went wet by 13 majority. Last year Barron went dry by 16.

As a result of three weeks' revival meetings now Richmond voted out the saloons by a decisive vote.

At Eau Claire, under the auspices of the Civic League, a parade in support of no license, made up of women and children with tableaux on floats, started at noon over a long time of march. A sign in the parade declared the band, which was under contract to play in the parade, refused to do so, and attributed this to saloon influence.

Free Bulletin.

Bulletin No. 15 recently issued by the State Horticultural Society contains many timely hints and suggestions on the spraying of fruit trees and plants. Formulas and explicit directions are given for preparing Bordeaux mixture and other preparations used in preventing the ravages of insects and plant diseases.

A new poison, arsenate of lead, is recommended as a substitute for Paris Green; it remains longer in suspension and is not washed off by rains. It is prepared commercially as a paste resembling white lead. Directions are also given for home preparation.

The bulletin also contains descriptions and illustrations of improved spraying machinery. A copy may be had free by postal card request to Secretary P. Crawford, Madison, Wis.

ECZEMA CURABLE? PROVEN!

Attorney at Madison, Wis., Convinced by Oil of Wintergreen Compound.

—There is nothing that will convince a lawyer except evidence.

Now, here is some rather startling evidence of a simple home cure for eczema which convinced one lawyer.

P. O. Entrikin, attorney at Madison, Ill. He tells how oil of wintergreen compound cured his eczema and glycerine, as in D. D. D. Prescription, cured him in thirty days after thirty-two years of suffering.

"For 32 years," writes Attorney Entrikin, "I was troubled with eczema, scabs all over my face, body and head. I could not take a bath over my body and the floor would be covered with scales enough to fill a basket. I tried everything—salves, internal medicine, X-Ray—all without result."

"Just a month ago I was induced to try D. D. D. Prescription. The itch was relieved instantly; so I continued. It is just a month now and I am completely cured. I have not a particle of itch and the scales have dropped off."

I can only say again cure discovered. I am now starting all eczema sufferers on the right track."

Cure after cure has been brought to our attention and always that instant relief from the awful itch.

Treating Potatoes to Prevent Scab.

Potato scab is a fungus disease which may be prevented in the crop by simple treatment of the seed potato, if the crop is planted in soil that is free from the scab.

The horticultural department of the College of Agriculture University of Wisconsin suggests that when potatoes are grown on a limited scale, they may be treated by placing the seed potatoes in a burlap sack before cutting them and by soaking them for an hour and a half in a mixture consisting of one quart of 40 per cent formalin solution in 30 gallons of water.

A better method for treatment on a larger scale, it is suggested, is to create the potatoes and expose them in a tightly closed room for 36 or 48 hours to the gas given off from a solution of potassium permanganate in water.

The formalin solution, which has been used for 40 per cent of the formalin solution. The formalin solution thus created kills the scab fungus without injury to the sprouting power of the potatoes. If the room in which the potatoes are treated has more than 1,000 cubic feet of cubic space, the proportion of material used should be increased accordingly.

Paper Mill Waste as Engine Fuel.

The utilization of one of the waste products of Wisconsin's many paper mills, an oil sometimes called "spruce turpentine," is the subject of experiment in the engineering laboratories of the University of Wisconsin. It is believed that the oil, which is a by product of the pulp manufacture, can be used to advantage in its various applications, and as a fuel for internal-combustion engines.

Experiments to determine its value have been begun under the direction of Prof. A. W. Richter of the department of experimental engineering.

"One Touch of Nature Makes the Whole World Kin."

When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing may also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm-hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

GENERAL WILLIAM BOOTH

GEN. BOOTH ON EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY STARTS NEW PLAN

Veteran Founder of Salvation Army Launches Scheme for "University of Humanity" in the United States—All the World Celebrates Anniversary of His Birth.

New York.—Gen. William Booth, founder and commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, celebrated his eightieth birthday on Saturday, April 10, and the event was made the occasion of a day of rejoicing all over the civilized world. The Army itself held big meetings in every city and town where it is established, and these were participated in by hundreds of thousands of other citizens who were glad to do honor to the distinguished philanthropist.

Gen. Booth himself presided over several monster mass meetings in London. His advanced age and the fact that he was operated on recently for cancer did not deter him from taking part in the celebrations held by his devoted soldiers.

University of Humanity Launched. In America the day was marked especially by the launching of another of Gen. Booth's original schemes for social reform in the United States. At every point of the army was announced the beginning of work to found a University of Humanity, a great institute for the training of workers in social service. The university will be divided between New York and Chicago, and it is expected to begin with a fund of $1,000,000. The gathering of this fund is the work that the army now enters upon in commemoration of its famous leader's completion of his eightieth year.

As a much-needed stone in the great organizational structure that William Booth has been building during the past 47 years, this idea of a school for the systematic training of his workers has been in his mind for several years. On his last visit to the United States the general made his first tentative announcement of the plan. Since then he has worked out the details of the plan and has just announced to the beginning of a preliminary work in this country where the need for trained workers has been especially great.

Growth of Great System. It is perhaps not generally realized that the whole intricate modern machinery of civilization for the uplifting of the submerged tenth, the vast system of charities now so essential a part of modern life, is to a very large extent an outgrowth of the Booth idea. He was the first to see that the unfortunate could best be reached by those who had suffered as they had, and that they must be reached by practical worldly help before they could be prepared to begin the cleaner life. It was the Salvation Army which first made a practical working success of this new familiar principle of so-called "missionary work."

This whole plan of campaign for saving the fallen began as a very simple scheme in the poverty-stricken and crime-infested East end of London and under the impact of William Booth's singular force of mind and personality and the momentum that it has gathered with almost miraculous rapidity it has developed into a truly astonishing organization.

Some of the departments of its work are: Prison-gate and Rescue, Inebriates' homes, Boys' and Girls' homes, Farm colonies, Emigration, Naval and Military homes, Maternity homes, nursing, Samaritan brigades, hospital and benevolent visitation, police court work and Indian school training.

No other religious organization in the world's history has branched out into so many departments of philanthropic effort and absorbed them as part of its religious duties.

Need of Trained Workers. The scheme for a University of Humanity grew naturally out of the development of the 20 other departments.

More Confusion in Tongues. All over the world, it would seem, the younger generation is losing the faculty of proper speech. The process of Babel is being reversed. French students no longer speak acceptable French. Oxford undergraduates deal shabbily by their common heritage, at Berlin slang and indifference are playing havoc with the language of Goethe and Schiller. The only difference is that at Babel men passed from a common level of intelligibility to a diversity of confusion, whereas now the trend is from intelligible diversity toward a common level of inarticulate confusion.

formation of the Christian mission, from which it was the evangelist's custom to send his converts to the existing churches of the locality, but finding that they were not welcomed and were in the danger of drifting back from sheer want of comradeship and oversight, he set about forming societies of the converted. These he found to be a potent agency for bringing in more, as the heedless East ender could be impressed by the words of a former "pal" when he would not listen to a minister. So was created the central idea of the Salvation Army.

The need of organization becomes apparent, but several methods were tried with little success before Gen. Booth hit upon the military idea and named his organization the Salvation Army. From that time on the movement grew amazingly and it has continued to grow without ceasing to this day.

Spread Over the World. The movement began spreading to other countries of the world in 1881 when it first reached the United States through the influence of a silk-weaver who had emigrated from Coventry, England, bringing with him the Salvation Army idea and a strong desire to continue in the work. It reached Australia in the same year through a milk dealer from Stepney, and soon afterwards the first Canadian corps was organized in a similar fashion.

Five years later, in 1886, the general made the first of many visits to the American branches of the army and he has seen them grow from a few small corps into a veritable army of tremendous influence and unsurpassed efficiency. His first great work was made in 1891 when he visited South Africa, Australia and India. Since then he has visited the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and India four times, South Africa twice and Japan and the Holy Land once each.

During all these travels the actual executive responsibility for the government of the army has never been lifted from his shoulders. Even on shipboard he is an indefatigable worker, planning and writing through the days.

Gen. Booth Honored.

One of the most remarkable of the many tributes paid to the general by the great world was that of the military of Japan during the visit to that country. The military personally received the general with great warmth and he was accorded remarkable ovations in Yokohama, Tokyo, Sendai and Kyoto, a circumstance of strange import when it is realized that Japan is not a Christian country.

Another incident given Gen. Booth was the conferring on him of the degree of doctor of civil law by Oxford university. The significance of this honor will be better understood when it is stated that those who received university honors with him at the time were Prince Arthur of Connaught, the prime minister of England, the lord chancellor, the speaker, Sir E. Grey, the archbishop of Armagh, Sir Evelyn Wood, the American ambassador, Mark Twain and Rudyard Kipling.

As a writer Gen. Booth is remarkable, both as a stylist, as a thinker and as a producer. He has written in 21 volumes, besides innumerable articles for the army publications. His best-known book is "In Darkest England and the Way Out," in which he outlined his scheme for social reform by means of colonization. "The Training of Children," "Love, Marriage and the Home," and his books on reform are among the most popular of the general's best-known literary productions.

Writes of His Creed. Of his creed the general has written very beautifully. He says: "The simplicity of our creed has been, as I believe it will remain, one of the principal helps to our unity. We stand on the old truths of faith which can be interpreted in terms of duty, of unselfishness, of purity, of love to God and man, and the only faith we really care about. What ever may be the case with the select minority, the consciousness of sin, the force of evil habits, the consciousness of sin and the influence of passion, are all vivid realities with the great masses of the population. To them we bring the promise of deliverance by Jesus Christ."

BE JUST WITH THE CHILD. Advice of Christine Terhune Herrick to the Parent. "I have never been one to feel that the best love was won from a child by extreme indulgence. In fact, I hold that the contrary is the rule. Observing the families of my contemporaries and predecessors, it is borne in upon me that the most indulged children have not been the most successful in life. Their fathers and mothers, on the contrary, having had the happiness to be associated with several households where strict obedience has always been demanded and received, I feel justified in declaring that the families whose discipline is observed are those whose children are most affectionate.

But it is noted that strictness does not mean harshness or severity. It does stand for reasonable rules, positively enforced, for commands which must be obeyed, and above all, it should stand for justice.

Were I asked to put in a word the most valuable quality of a child, I would say, with girls, either, for that matter, I would put justice first. It would not be a synonym for hardness, although it is a meaning often applied to it. It would mean obedience to orders and penalties when means were used for discipline. It would mean, also, an appreciation of the child's standpoint, an almost agonizing care that he should not be punished without adequate cause, a rigid adherence to promise of reward as well as of re-buke, an understanding of what led to this, or that course of action, which from the child's viewpoint may seem inexplicable.

There may be well brought up children, who resent a just punishment. I have never known them. But I have found injustice of reproof or of penalty resented with a bitterness which left its mark for years afterward. Christine Terhune Herrick, in "Circle Magazine."

EIGHT DIE IN STORM

MICHIGAN, OHIO AND INDIANA ARE SWEEPED BY FIERCE WINDS.

BET OF $5 COSTS THREE LIVES

Great Damage Is Done at Detroit, Toledo and Cleveland—Four Are Rescued from a Drifting Barge on Lake Erie.

Detroit, Mich.—This and other cities and towns in Michigan were swept by a windstorm Tuesday night and Wednesday which caused at least eight deaths.

Anthony Knapp, a suvconkeeper; Joseph Kadlec, a barber, and Adam Folin, all of Wyandotte, attempted to cross the Detroit river in a rowboat from Wyandotte to Canada in a 50-mile gale, to settle a five-dollar wager, and all three were drowned when their boat capsized.

At Jennings, in Missaukee county, three young men named Bernard Carr, Charles Jacobson and John Torrey were killed by being caught under a wall that was blown down by the wind at the Mitchell Brothers' mill.

Eight-year-old Benjamin Hellmer was killed by lightning near Ionia and Ray Miller was killed at Brighton when he was struck by a bolt of lightning that came from a roof that had been blown off by the wind.

The damage to roofs, chimneys, plate glass, etc., probably will reach $50,000 in Detroit and Michigan. The wind velocity reached 70 miles an hour early Wednesday.

The copper country is practically isolated from the outside world as the result of a blizzard which swept down on the district Tuesday.

Toledo, O.—Northwestern Ohio experienced one of the most severe windstorms in its history. Scores of persons were injured, many of them seriously, and the property damage is large. Toledo losses are estimated at $25,000.

The wind attained a velocity of 70 miles an hour. Fifteen Toledoans were injured and two of them, Miss Minnie Schroeder, 20, and James Gauden, eight, are in a serious condition. The main building of the Toledo-Massillon Electric company was partially wrecked by the storm and 200 men are out of work until repairs can be made.

The fishing tug George Flood, with seven men aboard, and the sand sucker Mary H. with a crew of nine men are missing, and the barge Northland, which carried a cargo of four persons was rescued at Cleveland after a desperate struggle as a result of the storm.

Wabash, Ind.—The only cyclone Wabash has known in 25 years hit here Wednesday, injuring a score of persons and doing thousands of dollars' worth of damage. The storm struck the city passing through the northeast section of the town. A dozen houses were demolished.

Marion, Ill.—Great property loss followed a tornado which injured a score of persons in this county Tuesday. Of those hurt the largest number live in Pittsburg, six miles from this city. The storm came from the southwest and was preceded and followed by heavy rains. It was 5:30 o'clock when the "twister" struck here and few persons were on the streets. In the business section, several store buildings were partly demolished and the residences section was hit by the small homes occupied by miners and their families were unroofed.

As the storm passed across the country, it ripped open barns and other farm buildings and then apparently spent its force on Pittsburg.

Flying debris wrecked store fronts and the wind uprooted trees, smashed dwellings, one of which collapsed and caused two deaths.

The monetary loss occasioned by the storm is estimated at $150,000.

$10,000 BILL IN BOX.

Pennsylvania Church Thinks Mistake Was Made and Offers to Return the Money.

Washington.—The insertion of an advertisement in a local paper Thursday that there had been found in the collection plate of the Roscoe Methodist Episcopal church, near here, after the service last Sunday night, a $10,000 bill, developed the fact that the church officers think the donor made a mistake.

The yearly collections of the church do not average much more than this amount, and the officials, in the advertisement, state that they will return the money to the owner. If he wants it back and can prove he inadvertently dropped it into the plate.

Nitroglycerine Kills Three. Huntington, W. Va.—Three men were killed when 100 quarts of nitroglycerine exploded in the railroad construction camp of Boxley & Carpenter at Blue Sulphur Wednesday night.

Former Banker Found Dead. Chicago.—Frank W. Lytle, former president of the City Bank of Dowagiac, Mich., who mysteriously disappeared from there after being indicted and arrested on charges of embezzlement and fraud growing out of a bank failure, was found dead.

Complete Haskell Case Arguments. Tulsa, Okla.—Arguments were concluded Wednesday in the motion picture indictment against Gov. Haskell and five co-defendants on land fraud charges.

AURORA MANIAC KILLS TWO

SLAYS WOMAN, SHOTS TWO AND COMMITS SUICIDE.

Starts Out with Two Revolvers, Three Bombs and Shotgun, to Murder Twenty for Fancied Insults.

Aurora, Ill.—Armed with two pistols, a shotgun and fastening three bombs to his body with a harness, John Anderson, whose mind has been affected, became suddenly violent Thursday, and started out to avenge fancied wrongs. When he had finished he had killed one woman, wounded her husband, shot another woman and ended his own life. Scores of persons were panic stricken.

The dead: Mrs. John McVicker, shot through heart.

John Anderson, committed suicide by blowing off head with shotgun. The injured: Mrs. John Belford, flesh wound and broken arm from pistol bullets. John McVicker, scalp grazed by bullet.

Anderson's violent manner and his insane armament of bombs and revolvers terrified the entire square to which he had announced his intention of laying waste. That his already weakened mind had completely given way was obvious. Doors were locked and barred and women and children fled to cellars and attics as soon as they saw the maniac walking along the street.

His first stop was at the home of Mrs. John McVicker, probably his oldest and best friend. Mrs. McVicker and her husband had repeatedly befriended Anderson, who was a widower. They had received him at their home and had nursed him when ill.

With a pistol in each hand Anderson began firing. The first bullet grazed Mr. McVicker's scalp. Mrs. McVicker ran toward the kitchen where her four children were playing. In order to protect them. She fell dead across the threshold with a bullet through her head.

Apparently satisfied, Anderson left the place and proceeded to the home of John Belford, a few doors distant. Anderson's resentment was centered in Belford, whom he accused, with what neighbors state was without a shadow of reason, with circulating slanderous stories about him. Mrs. Belford, a widow, Mrs. Amanda Minton, 80 years old and blind, were alone in the house.

Anderson opened fire with his pistol on Mrs. Belford. One bullet inflicted a flesh wound and another shattered her arm and she fell to the floor.

When he shot himself and fell on a couch across the form of the woman, which kept the bombs from exploding.

SMALL TARIFF ON OIL.

Insignificant Tax of One Per Cent. Ad Valorem Inserted in the Payne Bill.

Washington.—Wednesday was a bad day for the Republican organization of the house. By a coalition between some Republican "insurgents" and the Democrats, the ways and means committee was bowled over and the advocates of free crude oil and its products won a signal victory when an amendment by Mr. Norris of Nebraska, placing the insignificant duty of one per cent. ad valorem on those articles was adopted by a substantial majority.

On all other propositions the committee was sustained. The barley schedule ran the gauntlet without change. Tea and coffee were placed on the free list.

In his fall Kreiger's suspenders caught on a projecting timber 50 feet from the surface. He grasped it and drew himself up until he sat on the post, whereupon, although badly bruised, he waited for help. The rope was lowered, he fastened it about his arms and was drawn to the surface.

VALUE OF THE HUMBLE HE

Figures Make One Think Biddy H Not Been Properly Appreciated.

The hen's admirers grow. Counts is their increase. The first official of Nebraska's new labor commission was a formal appreciation of the pillar of society. According to a Maupin, this fowl brought $18,000.00 worth of eggs to market in Nebraska last year. The commission is supposed to estimate the value of her spring in the way of fried chicken. She laid 1,200,000 eggs in the first placed end to end these eggs would reach around the earth and over 12,000 miles. They would make egg walk three feet wide reach from Omaha to Ogden, Utah. They would furnish breakfast for 60,000,000 people and make an oval containing 652,000 cubic feet. This was worth more to Nebraska than it boasted worth of $26,000,000; $18,000,000; 20 times as much as a barley crop; 20 times as much as a rye crop; and one third as much as a much-talked-of crop of corn. The commission believes Nebraska is another soul. It is not right in thinking that upon that soul no figure well demands recognition as the patient, busy and unpretentious hen.

Cuticura Thus Proven Pure and Sweet

A New York Friend of Cuticura writes:

"My three year old son and held after being put to bed on a trip across the Atlantic, investigated the state room and located a box of Cuticura Ointment. He ate a goodly quantity of the box, it was found empty and the child admitted that he had eaten the contents of the entire box spread of the crackers. It cured him of a bad cold and I don't know what else."

No more conclusive evidence could be offered that every ingredient of Cuticura Ointment is absolutely pure, sweet and harmless. If it may be safely eaten by a young child, none but the most beneficial results can be expected to attend its application to even the tenderest skin or youngest infant.

Section Six. And it is hereby demanded and made a condition obligatory on said company that the business of said company shall be managed by a Board of Directors consisting of five members chosen from the stockholders of said company, two of whom shall be elected by the Common Council of said city at its last meeting prior to the annual meeting of the stockholders of said company.

"The Hon. Mayor and Common Council, City of Grand Rapids.
Gentlemen—In regard to the ownership of the lot on which the city barn now stands, which question was referred to the city engineer, I would respectfully report as follows: The Sanmson conveyance describes a piece of land west of a line commencing at the northeast corner of L. Trudell's land, and running west to the slough, except L. Trudell's land and about 30 feet west of Trudell and running back to the slough. ### "The Home of Better Clothes"

QUITE naturally, we expected a great Easter business, but really we did not anticipate the mighty avalanche of clothing buyers which threatened to completely swamp us several times Saturday. It was a splendid tribute to modern merchandising—an unqualified indorsement of KRUGER & WARNER CO.'S "square deal" policy of giving every patron his money's worth or money back. The best clothing the manufacturing geniuses of America can produce is displayed here. You also have the advantage of OUR EXPERIENCE IN SELECTING CLOTHES—which can only be appreciated by trying them.

We return thanks for the remarkable demonstration of Saturday; no other store could feel more grateful than does KRUGER & WARNER COMPANY.
